

Company Profile

Hot-air balloon adventurer Phil Hossack formed PSH Skypower Ltd over 20 years ago when commercial ballooning was still in its infancy, and now the company provides balloons for film productions, concerts, product launches and stunts, and acts as a consultant to local authorities and private organisers of balloon festivals.

SKYPOWER and Go Ballooning are run by husband and wife team Phil and Sandra Hossack. Skypower was established in 1988 and has created original media and publicity opportunities for clients including the BBC, British Gas, Lloyds TSB and John Lewis, has managed annual balloon festivals for UK local authorities and has taken its balloons to events around the world as far afield as Canada and Australia.

The Go-Ballooning network was set up in 2000 to bring together all the main locations throughout the UK for ballooning, making it easier for people to find a launch site.

Both companies are licensed by the Civil Aviation Authority.

An ex-championship pilot, Phil represented Great Britain in several 1990s World Championships and was one of the founding members of the British Association of Balloon Operators. He is the founder and chief pilot of outdoor aerial advertising experts, Skypower, and of Go Ballooning, the UK's premier provider of hot air balloon flights.

Phil Hossack is a founding member of the British Association of Balloon Operators, which represents commercial balloon interests in the UK, and sits on several panels liaising on countryside issues that impact on flying and flight safety.

SKYPOWER operate from bespoke premises in Woodborough, near Pewsey in Wiltshire, with capacity for artworking, manufacture, testing, storage and flight preparation.

SKYPOWER can also provide a range of artworking and web promotion services, offering customers exceptional results for media, marketing, brand building and public awareness.
